Argaka

Along the coastal road there are wonderful restaurants and bars offering a relaxing atmosphere from which to enjoy the crystal-clear, unbelievably blue and warm sea and stunning sunsets. Two species of turtle nest on these beaches: the loggerhead and the green turtle. Until not long ago Argaka's main function was agricultural which is still clearly noticeable including citrus trees, mangos, vegetables and other crops. On the other side of the village, up in the hills, another natural delight unfolds: the beautiful Paphos Forest. Nearby at Limni two golf courses and a marina are proposed on the site of an old copper mine.
